

The Enterprise.

Thursday, Dec. 18, 1879.

J. W. HOUGHTON, M. H. HOUGHTON, EDITORS.

C. C. & I. R. R. Time-table.

Trains leave Wellington Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

No. 1—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 8:30 A. M.

No. 2—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 3—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 5:30 P. M.

No. 4—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 8:30 P. M.

No. 5—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 11:30 P. M.

No. 6—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 7—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 8—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 9—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 10—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 11—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 12—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 13—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 14—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 15—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 16—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 17—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 18—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 19—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 20—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 21—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 22—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 23—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 24—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 25—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 26—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 27—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 28—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 29—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 30—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 31—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 32—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 33—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 34—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 35—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 36—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 37—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 38—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 39—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 40—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 41—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 42—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 43—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 44—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 45—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 46—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 47—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 48—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 49—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 50—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 51—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 52—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 53—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 54—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 55—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 56—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 57—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 58—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 59—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 60—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 61—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 62—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 63—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 64—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 65—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 66—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 67—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 68—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 69—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 70—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 71—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 72—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 73—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 74—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 75—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 76—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 77—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

No. 78—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 A. M.

No. 79—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 A. M.

No. 80—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 A. M.

No. 81—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 A. M.

No. 82—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 1:30 P. M.

No. 83—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 4:30 P. M.

No. 84—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 7:30 P. M.

No. 85—City & Ind. Express & Mail, 10:30 P. M.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—W. H. Milburn at the M. E. Church.

—Specimen copies of the N. Y. Tribune can be had at this office.

—A choice lot of Tobaccos at A. P. Dimock's, at Jobbers' prices. 8-11.

—Read Houghton's holiday ad in this issue.

—The late fair and concert at the Congregational Church, netted $168.18.

—The 3:10 p. m. passenger train going south, does not stop at Wellington any more.

—If you would save 10 to 20 dollars, buy your Sewing Machines at Smith, at Ringler's.

—Will some of our subscribers favor us with their copies of last week's paper, No. 12. Would like four or five.

—When you are in town stop at A. P. Dimock's cigar and tobacco store; he has got something to show you. 8-11.

—S. A. Peters has purchased the grocery stock of D. T. Bush, and will continue his business at Mr. Bush's old stand.

—What has become of the Obelisk Gazette? The Lorain Times has been to the deserted office and says it is a "goner."

—Go to the new Cigar and Tobacco Store, and get some of that 50 cent Tobacco.

—It has been tested in a court of law at Wurttemberg, that a sheep-eating dog if caught early enough, can be proven guilty by giving him an emetic.

—Ladies' Cloaks and Circles, latest styles, cheap, $3.00 and upwards at Wm. Ringler's.

—WANTED—100,000 feet Oak, Ash and Hickory logs.

—11-St. C. W. HEMENWAY & Co.

—All colors of perforated board, all gilt and silver card board, at Houghton's; also a very choice new lot of scrap pictures for applique work.

—11-4

—"Land and Home" is a new publication, issued at 37 Park Row, New York, at $2.00 a year, with information designed for everybody with rural tastes or interests.

—Katie Powers' fancy articles of her own design and manufacture, are among the prettiest goods we have seen for holiday gifts. She deserves to sell them all.

—G. W. Crozier has sold his residence on Barker Street to Jas. Sheldon. Consideration $4,000, and has purchased the Barnard property on Taylor street. Consideration $14,420.

—W. H. Milburn is very thoroughly endorsed by such men as J. G. Blaine, Simon Cameron, J. A. Garfield, O. P. Morton, together with 30 other leading men of national reputation.

—We learn that the Mayor has given the opinion that one gambling room might be closed up if any one could be found to make the necessary legal complaint. We have nothing more to say.

—Five wrecked buggies and wagons were discovered between Wellington and Huntington, Saturday. Nothing has exceeded the height and depth and uncompromising solidity of the hubs of all five.

—A few more premiums awarded at our late Fair remain unpaid. Persons having claims against the Agricultural Society will please present them before the first of January, 1880.

—R. N. GOODWIN, Sec.

—I will tell you what would be a very acceptable holiday present. One of Harvey's warm scarfs, mufflers, gloves, mitts, or even a silk handkerchief. He says he will be in readiness for the emergency this week. 13-11.

—"The Lorain County Teachers' Association will meet in the Elyria High school building, Saturday. Prof. White of Oberlin, and Supt. Kennison of Wellington, will take part.

—Don't buy anything of the nickelized cast steel silver plated spoon swindlers; nor deal with the cattle buyer you do not know; nor sign your name to anything whatever presented to you in transaction with a stranger.

—Horr, Warner & Co., have leased the park just east of the passenger depot, and will erect a brick ware-house on it for cold storage purposes, which they expect to have ready for the next season's trade.

—G. W. Crozier & Co., have leased of the R. R. Co., ground at the end of the freight depot, for a cheese ware-house. Brick have already been purchased and work will be begun immediately and pushed as rapidly as possible.

—The fat steers so well known as belonging to W. W. Penfield's herd, with five other head of fat cattle, were driven into Wellington by Henry Witbeck, Tuesday, who was taking them to Buffalo, and some fortunate people East will have choice cuts of Christmas beef.

—Mr. Cowles sudden death last week from pneumonia, startled all his acquaintances, and many are the expressions of sorrow at the loss of so active and benevolent a Christian woman. She was one of the old members of the Congregational Church, and a very devoted servant of her Master.

—A brother of the Mr. Galt who was taken in at the gambling room in Union Block, to the tune of $95, was in town Monday last week, and in the evening got so drunk and disorderly he was taken to the cooler to recuperate his nervous system. Tuesday morning his Honor assessed him $5 for lodgings. The Galt is a happy family.

—There has been a number of cases of illness in town the past week, of throat and lung difficulties that for the time were serious. Mr. Mills janitor of the Congregational Church, is reported very ill. Mrs. Webster, mother of E. F. Webster, is also on the sick list. Mrs. Adams, who has been partially paralyzed for several weeks, has been so much worse the past week as to require constant watching. Her speech is very much impaired and she is otherwise almost entirely helpless. A. L. Hayes, out on a business trip, was taken ill and reached the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. Houghton, Thursday evening last, where he has since been kept very still by a rheumatic difficulty and congested liver.

—Major Bartley and wife, and Mr. E. C. West, all celebrated actors, will play "The Spy of Atlanta" some time between Christmas and New Years, assisted by a dozen or more of Wellington's "star performers." As the proceeds are "for the benefit of the Band," it will of course be well attended.

—"The success of 'Harper's Young People' has been so great that after Dec. 25th, it is to be doubled in size. Harper's Bazar is so attractive and so full of good things, and instructions how to do just what every family is trying to accomplish before the Holidays, that we do not lay down a number without wishing such a weekly visitor might brighten every woman's home.

—"We have received the catalogue of Oberlin College for 1879-80. The Wellington students in attendance are J. Blair Doland, sophomore; Cora E. Gannett, freshman; Josephine Winchell English school; Ida Van Fleet, Conservatory of Music; Belle Willey, Spencer; Edie Chapman, Huntington; Clifton and Watson B. Lindsey, and S. McConoughy, Penfield; S. A. Baldwin and Jennie E. Baldwin, Pittsfield, are enrolled from this part of the county. There is a total of 949 students or 1016 as numbered by classes.

—"The Blind Man Eloquent," on Tuesday evening, Dec. 23d. No man is more highly endorsed by the leading literary journals of this country and Europe. Witness the following opinions of the press.

—"One loses sight of his great calamity in listening to his finished and captivating eloquence."—N. Y. Tribune.

—"As an orator of the foremost rank, he may well challenge comparison with and stand by the side of the first that he appeared in this country, within this generation."—London Times.

—"We agree with the Louisville Courier-Journal that there are doubtless some who excel him in buffoonery which commands the popular applause, but for refined beauty of language, genuine wit, noble thought, and oftentimes a deep thought, we have not known his equal. With personal convictions we now pronounce him to be most truly, 'The Blind Man Eloquent.'—Harper's Weekly.

—"The discourse in the multitude of thoughts suggested, in the beauty of its presentation, and the eloquence of its oratory, as well as the vividness with which the impressions of the slightest orator are given, is not within the scope or power of pencil or pen to report."—Detroit Free Press.

Course tickets will be on sale at the lecture Tuesday evening.

—"Gamblers and Gambling." Wellington would not of course be able to maintain its claims as an aspirant for city honors unless it had its gambling hell as well as its other places of resort, for a certain sort of gentility who have learned that it is easier to get their wealth than to earn it, have spread the sweat of their brow, and so an upper room in Union Block has been fitted up for the occupancy of certain "lured fellows of the baser sort," where they play their nightly games, while more stupid and industrious people are engaged in honest sleep.

Experience has shown that such places are a good thing to have in a town, they are so refining and elevating in their tendencies, and many of our young men with enterprising proclivities, are not slow to avail themselves of the opportunity to turn an "honest penny" into their pockets by a more expeditious and less laborious method than earning it. We would not like to intimate that those who frequent this room for the purpose mentioned are disreputable in character, for the truly good and fashionable of our select circles, sometime admit them to their homes and our daughters join with them in social pastime and the gay dance, and to admit such an inference would not be altogether comforting to our self-respect. It would hardly be fair to charge that all who frequent this room are as bad as those who have been detected in practices not approved by our code of social morality, though they do put themselves on terms of social equality with them. There must of course, as the old adage has it, be "honorable men among thieves," or do we forget, and is it "honor among thieves," which last is not so comforting, but probably nearer the truth.

But this is not what we started to say. A man by the name of Galt, a resident of Ashland county, paid our town a visit a short time ago and was introduced by one of the noble youths of Wellington to an upper room where money is made easy, where it is supposed that men can shut themselves in and by successful business manipulations, all in the course of time come out with more money than they had when they went in. Our friend went in with $125 and after a few hours had lost $25, and rumor has it that the remainder was deftly abstracted from his pocket by one James Adams and John Kunz, (no relation to our barber, however,) while he was engaged in his games. At the close of the evening's work, one of these precious pair had $43 and the other $45, and as there was probably not $10 in the pockets of both at the beginning and they had gained but $25 in their games, and possibly they not all of that, they found themselves in the very unfortunate and suspicious condition of being too rich.

Both were arrested and the evidence being sufficiently strong Mr. Kunz was being sent under $500 bond to appear at the Court of Common Pleas, and James Adams was first put under bonds of the same amount, but by the efforts of his counsel it was reduced to $300 and he then bailed his client. Kunz could not furnish bail and accordingly was lodged in jail.

The night after his trial, Adams with a confederate, visited a house where Galt was staying, and proceeded to demolish him, but the outcries of the female portion of the household bringing a large number of the town people on the premises, obliged them to desist and leave for other and unknown parts.

We have no disposition to prejudice these cases in advance, but we cannot refrain from giving the opinion that justice is sometimes quite as commendable as mercy. When a man has repeatedly shown himself to be wicked and dangerous, especially when intoxicated, it is about as well to let him take the penalty of violated law as to try to help him evade it or get around it, or make it light and easy for him. We have no patience with that kind of sentimentalism that lets one play over one's own attributes of justice.

Criminals are not ordinarily made better by suffering them to escape deserved punishment and in the good time coming, when public sentiment has reached such a stage of advancement that the penalty will overtake the criminal with the certainty of fate and they will have no encouragement to take chances with crime by the hope that a soft-hearted people will condone their misdeeds and allow them to go free.

The delays and crooks and turns and evasions and escapes of the law give large room for hope to the evil-disposed, that though he sin he shall go unpunished, and to an extent hardly dreamed of encourage lawlessness and crime.

Society has come rights in such cases and when counsel protect their clients from injustice, their duty has been well and faithfully discharged, and any effort to protect them from well merited punishment not only does harm to the

Don't Fail to Hear

"The Blind Man Eloquent," on Tuesday evening, Dec. 23d. No man is more highly endorsed by the leading literary journals of this country and Europe. Witness the following opinions of the press.

—"One loses sight of his great calamity in listening to his finished and captivating eloquence."—N. Y. Tribune.

—"As an orator of the foremost rank, he may well challenge comparison with and stand by the side of the first that he appeared in this country, within this generation."—London Times.

—"We agree with the Louisville Courier-Journal that there are doubtless some who excel him in buffoonery which commands the popular applause, but for refined beauty of language, genuine wit, noble thought, and oftentimes a deep thought, we have not known his equal. With personal convictions we now pronounce him to be most truly, 'The Blind Man Eloquent.'—Harper's Weekly.

—"The discourse in the multitude of thoughts suggested, in the beauty of its presentation, and the eloquence of its oratory, as well as the vividness with which the impressions of the slightest orator are given, is not within the scope or power of pencil or pen to report."—Detroit Free Press.

Course tickets will be on sale at the lecture Tuesday evening.

—"Gamblers and Gambling." Wellington would not of course be able to maintain its claims as an aspirant for city honors unless it had its gambling hell as well as its other places of resort, for a certain sort of gentility who have learned that it is easier to get their wealth than to earn it, have spread the sweat of their brow, and so an upper room in Union Block has been fitted up for the occupancy of certain "lured fellows of the baser sort," where they play their nightly games, while more stupid and industrious people are engaged in honest sleep.

Experience has shown that such places are a good thing to have in a town, they are so refining and elevating in their tendencies, and many of our young men with enterprising proclivities, are not slow to avail themselves of the opportunity to turn an "honest penny" into their pockets by a more expeditious and less laborious method than earning it. We would not like to intimate that those who frequent this room for the purpose mentioned are disreputable in character, for the truly good and fashionable of our select circles, sometime admit them to their homes and our daughters join with them in social pastime and the gay dance, and to admit such an inference would not be altogether comforting to our self-respect. It would hardly be fair to charge that all who frequent this room are as bad as those who have been detected in practices not approved by our code of social morality, though they do put themselves on terms of social equality with them. There must of course, as the old adage has it, be "honorable men among thieves," or do we forget, and is it "honor among thieves," which last is not so comforting, but probably nearer the truth.

But this is not what we started to say. A man by the name of Galt, a resident of Ashland county, paid our town a visit a short time ago and was introduced by one of the noble youths of Wellington to an upper room where money is made easy, where it is supposed that men can shut themselves in and by successful business manipulations, all in the course of time come out with more money than they had when they went in. Our friend went in with $125 and after a few hours had lost $25, and rumor has it that the remainder was deftly abstracted from his pocket by one James Adams and John Kunz, (no relation to our barber, however,) while he was engaged in his games. At the close of the evening's work, one of these precious pair had $43 and the other $45, and as there was probably not $10 in the pockets of both at the beginning and they had gained but $25 in their games, and possibly they not all of that, they found themselves in the very unfortunate and suspicious condition of being too rich.

Both were arrested and the evidence being sufficiently strong Mr. Kunz was being sent under $500 bond to appear at the Court of Common Pleas, and James Adams was first put under bonds of the same amount, but by the efforts of his counsel it was reduced to $300 and he then bailed his client. Kunz could not furnish bail and accordingly was lodged in jail.

The night after his trial, Adams with a confederate, visited a house where Galt was staying, and proceeded to demolish him, but the outcries of the female portion of the household bringing a large number of the town people on the premises, obliged them to desist and leave for other and unknown parts.

We have no disposition to prejudice these cases in advance, but we cannot refrain from giving the opinion that justice is sometimes quite as commendable as mercy. When a man has repeatedly shown himself to be wicked and dangerous, especially when intoxicated, it is about as well to let him take the penalty of violated law as to try to help him evade it or get around it, or make it light and easy for him. We have no patience with that kind of sentimentalism that lets one play over one's own attributes of justice.

Criminals are not ordinarily made better by suffering them to escape deserved punishment and in the good time coming, when public sentiment has reached such a stage of advancement that the penalty will overtake the criminal with the certainty of fate and they will have no encouragement to take chances with crime by the hope that a soft-hearted people will condone their misdeeds and allow them to go free.

The delays and crooks and turns and evasions and escapes of the law give large room for hope to the evil-disposed, that though he sin he shall go unpunished, and to an extent hardly dreamed of encourage lawlessness and crime.

Society has come rights in such cases and when counsel protect their clients from injustice, their duty has been well and faithfully discharged, and any effort to protect them from well merited punishment not only does harm to the criminal, but wrongs the public whose interests are certainly as important and as dear as those of every good citizen as those of the drunken and lawless, who put the property and lives of better people in peril.

We have no personal grudge or ill-feeling against the persons named, but we do not believe their reformation will be accomplished by sparing them from the natural results of wrong-doing.

—"Sellers' Liver Pills" stand unrivaled in the United States for curing biliousness, sick headache, etc.

—"Boils, pimples on face, salt rheum, old sores, and all cutaneous eruptions disappear like magic when 'Lindsey's Blood Searcher' is used.

—"Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth, and Head Ache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal injector for the more successful treatment of the complaint, without extra charge. Price 50 cts.

—"Coughing in Church.—No place in the world equals London for the constant barking kept up in the churches. It is like a perpetual fusillade of small arms. Why don't they take Hall's Balsam and get rid of their coughs? It is the most wonderful remedy, and the proprietors warrant it in every instance. Let the coughers give it a trial.

—"Public speakers, actors and vocalists, find that Thomas' Eucalypti Oil relieves hoarseness and irritation in the throat better than remedies specially advertised to relieve that difficulty. This Oil has a wide scope, since it cures external hurts, corns, sores, frost-bites, piles, and a variety of other unhealthy conditions. Note—Electric, selected and electrized. See advertisement.

—"We speak knowingly when we assert that Hall's Vegetable Sillian Hair Renewer is the best article of the kind sold on the American Continent. Personal trial has demonstrated this, and the article is an elegant and cleanly one, without which we think no toilet complete. Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., 602 Arch street, Philadelphia, are the agents for the article and when our Philadelphia friends return from Cape May, they should certainly procure some of it. We know of no such article extant for the hair, and thus speak in such decided and emphatic terms.—Ocean Foam, Cape May, N.J.

—"The Best I Ever Know of." J. G. Starkey, a prominent and influential citizen of Iowa City, says, "I have had the dyspepsia and liver complaint for several years, and have used every remedy I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your Shiloh's Vitalizer advertised in your paper, and was persuaded to try it. I am happy to state